

Manners Matter

Look around at the people you meet as you run your errands this week. Do they look happy? I think your answer will be no. They look harried and angry. We have spent decades under the umbrella of war and disaster. The middle class, has been under attack for at least three generations. The Elite gave away our jobs, sent our sons and daughters off to war without honesty. They set out to destroy our families, and have nearly succeeded. However, one of the worst things they did to society was erode manners.

My first question should have you thinking about the strangers you see. If you watch movies or tv, you are only more convinced that this is the way people act. If you watch OLD movies or tv, you can discover something called Manners. They are quite wonderful. Etiquette tells us exactly how we can be polite in almost any situation. Being polite can make pretty much any situation better. Its hard to pick a fight with someone greeting and welcoming you, with a smile on their face.

Civilizations have always lived under the scythe of invasion. The Mongols, The Huns, The Vikings, The Moors...and in America...The British and French. We only had to worry about the last two!! Then we progressed in size and scope beyond Europe's ability to challenge us martially. We thought we only had to worry about armed invaders. Then our elected truly began to betray us. They left our borders open, and made laws allowing chain immigration, without concern for who was coming to our country.

This lack of law and regulation took jobs directly from American citizens. We've seen almost three generations of lower middle class Americans disenfranchised by the flood of illegal immigration. More and more of our hard working society found themselves without recourse for a living wage. The govenment's answer... entitlements. As they gave out entitlements, they managed to destroy the nuclear family. " We can't give you financial help with a man living in the house!" So, the government has created a whole level of society with nothing better to do than watch tv, listen to the mainstream media, and create another generation of downtrodden. What do these media outlets tell us? That this is normal. That the lack of fulfillment that you feel without a job is just life. Then they began to tell us it was the fault of the rich in society. Its the fault of conservatives, of religion.. of white privilege. Once they were able to destroy the family and pit us against each other, it was a small step to militarize us and point us to violence.

I imagine, at this point you are asking yourself what does this have to do with manners? My answer...everything. If you are willing to verbally assault people in a restaurant, because they are wearing a MAGA hat, then you have no manners. Everyone has a right to eat in peace. Your rights and freedoms end where mine begin! If you don't like my hat or t-shirt, then don't look at it. That's your right. If you don't like what I say, then don't listen. If you don't like the show, then turn the channel. No one is torturing you with these things. Learn to turn it off.

I challenge everyone listening to this to remember their manners. Smile at the people you see going in and out of stores. Make sure that you open doors for others. Help the elderly, with a smile on your face. They are most in need of what should be a societal norm. I guarantee that once you start doing that, you will find others willing to join you. No one wants to be unhappy all of the time, despite what the mainstream tells us. Remember your manners...they matter.
