

Your Privacy as an Independent Citizen Journalist

The CFAPA is not a corporate marketing gimmick, a partisan political tool, leverage for social media, or an attempt to push any particular brand of religion. Nor are we an e-mail address vacuum or a web cookie-gobbling monster. We strive to keep our members anonymous, so we keep no lists:

- No e-mail lists
- No cookies
- No lists or logs of originating ISPs
- No lists or logs of computer MAC-IDs
- No lists or logs of originating servers

We run no spiders or web crawlers.

(Note: We originally had a counter for site visitors, but we removed that for the sake of your privacy, when we realized that it might log the originating servers.)

We have NO links to social media sites or other data-mining or intelligence-gathering schemes.

We run no annoying pop-up advertising, and accept NO paid advertisements. (Although we do sell some merchandise of our own, to help cover our bandwidth and legal costs.)
