@AndreaChalupa speaks about Isikoff and @DavidCornDC and Christopher Steele then Paul Manafort<---

And yes, I have a sister, Alexandra Chalupa, called one of the most influential people of the 2016 election by the investigative journalist Michael Isikoff who, along with David Corn, the first journalist to publish an interview with Christopher Steele, features my sister in their bestselling book Russian Roulette: The Inside Story of Putin's War on America and the Election of Donald Trump.

The first three episodes of Gaslit Nation, recapping the 2016 election like a crime scene, explain how my sister was harassed and risked her life and career to alert the media about Paul Manafort and the Kremlin's attack on our democracy as it was happening.

For a convicted felon dumb enough to lie to Robert Mueller after agreeing to a plea bargain, Paul Manafort sure gets a lot of credit. To some, he's the man who took a drifting presidential campaign and helped deliver an ~~unlikely nomination for Donald Trump. This~~

Bear was given access to request password privileges at the DNC. And it looks like the DNC provided them with it.

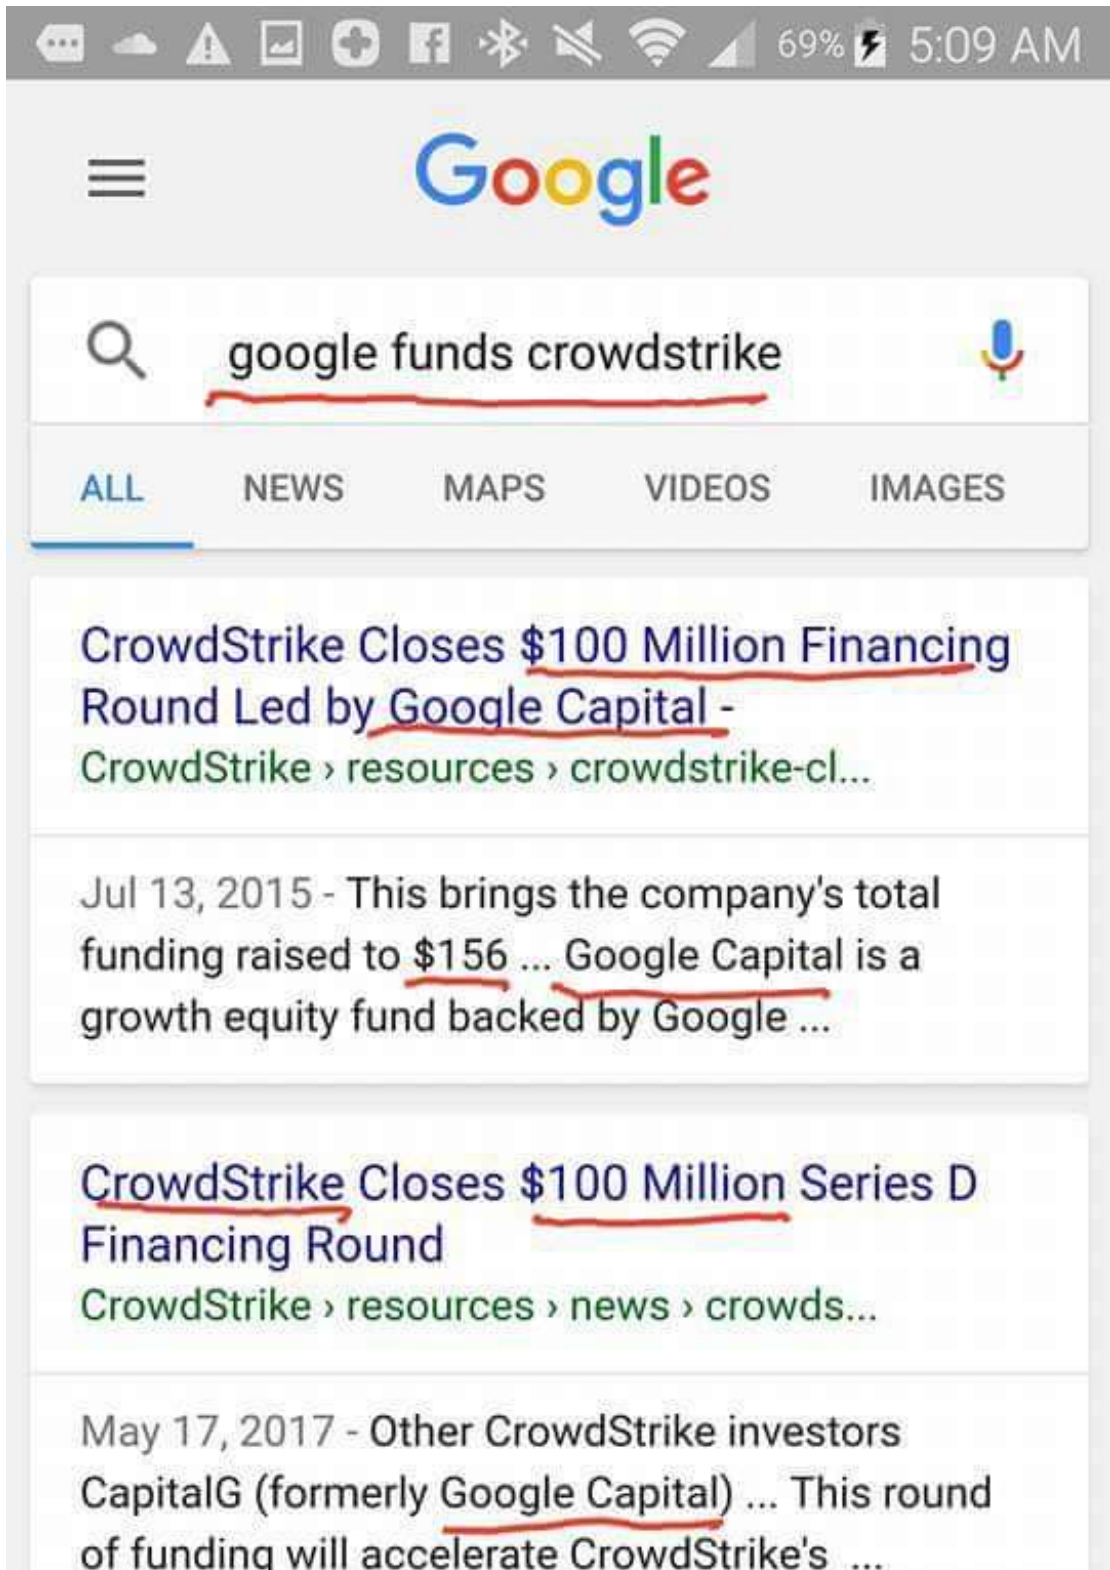

- I'll show why the Podesta email hack looks like a revenge hack.
- The reason Republican opposition research files were stolen can be put into context now because we know who the hackers are and what motivates them.

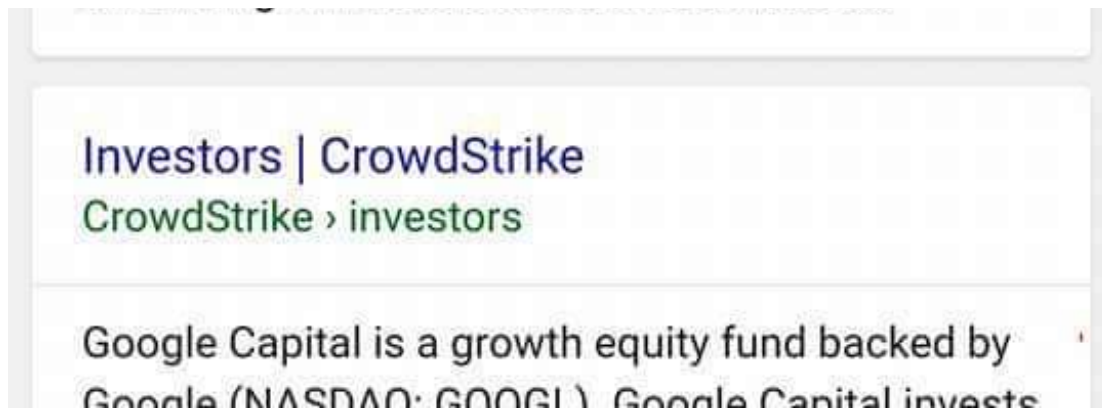

At the same time this story developed, it overshadowed the Hillary Clinton email scandal. It is a matter of public record that Team Clinton provided the DNC hackers with passwords to State Department servers on at least 2 occasions, one wittingly and one not. I have already clearly shown the Fancy Bear hackers are Ukrainian Intelligence Operators.

Google gives CrowdStrike over $156 Million dollarsis it making any sense yet
GOOGLE@CROWDSTRIKE=OBAMA AND @DNC

Crowdstrike(Dmitri Alperovitch) wmgave cover to Google while Google funneled money to Crowdstrike by orders of the white house ☺

Second and most important Judy Woodruff asked if there were any questions about conflicts of interest, how he would answer? This is where Dmitri Alperovitch's story starts to unwind.

His response was "Well, this report was not about the DNC. This report was about information we uncovered about what these Russian actors were doing in eastern Ukraine in terms of locating these artillery units of the Ukrainian army and then targeting them. So, what we just did is said that it looks exactly as the same to the evidence we've already uncovered from the DNC, linking the two together.”

How could Dimitri Alperovitch and Crowdstrike be this wrong on easily checked detail and still get this much media attention? Could the investment made by Google and some very large players have anything to do with the media Crowdstrike is causing?

How can a Ukrainian Intelligence Agent tell the U.S that Russia hacked the DNC then create the story of the 17intelligence agencies found evidence..YALL REMEMBER THAT TALKING POINT 17 17 17 intelligence agencies 17 17 this 17that all said Russia back but it was Crowdstrike Crowdstrike CEO Dmitri Alperovitch story about Russian hacks that cost Hillary Clinton the election was broadsided by the SBU (Ukrainian Intelligence and Security) in Ukraine. If Dimitri Alperovitch is working for Ukrainian Intelligence and is providing intelligence to 17 US Intelligence Agencies is it a conflict of interest?

in Apr. 15, 2014, Schmidt proposed "Notes for a Democratic campaign" which the evidence shows that the White House controlled.

e wanted to recruit Dickerson to run it. However, Dickerson was "a little worried about how legit it was." Mook clearly needed Podesta to strong arm Dickerson into accepting the appointment. The subsequent events show this effort was for Hillary Clinton's election.

ongtime Clinton surrogate Terry McAuliffe was Mook's cover, and would later pay a $675,000 bribe to the FBI Deputy Director Andrew McCabe to get Hillary off the hook in her private email server investigation.

Mr. Henry will succeed Assistant Deputy Director T.J. Harrington. Mr. Henry most recently served as assistant director in charge of the FBI's Washington Field Office.

Since February 2010, Mr. Henry has served as assistant director in charge of the Washington Field Office, which is where he began his career with the FBI in 1989, investigating a variety of matters, focusing primarily on public corruption and serving as a member of the SWAT team.

In his 21 years with the Bureau, Mr. Henry has served in a variety of capacities at FBI Headquarters and in the field. Among his many assignments Mr. Henry has served as: a supervisory special agent in the Public Corruption Unit; chief of the Computer Investigations Unit in the National Infrastructure Protection Center; field supervisor of the Computer Crimes Squad for the FBI's Baltimore Field Office; assistant inspector and team leader in the Inspection Division; assistant special agent in charge of the Philadelphia Field Office; and chief of the Executive Staff for the National Security Branch.

He was an original member of the National Cyber Study Group, which developed the Comprehensive National Cyber Security Initiative (CNCSI). In September 2008, Mr. Henry became assistant director of the Cyber Division, where he played a central role in restructuring the FBI's cyber strategy and investigative programs.

You made me laugh, and you never wavered in your support of the DNC. You played it straight and by the rules. We pulled five major events together in less than six weeks. We knew there was no room for any errors. And we didn’t flinch. You are more than my coworkers, you’re members of my family. Thank you.

Special appreciation to a longtime friend, warrior, and strategist, Tom McMahon. When I saw you at the DNC Convention in Philadelphia, I said to expect my call: You responded, and I am deeply grateful for your leadership. As the anointed cochair of the Wings and Wine Caucus and my designee—just in case—I am forever mindful that some of us are called to serve. Thank you for responding to the call to service and for helping me rebuild the fifty state strategies. When I told you that I wasn’t going to get paid but insisted that you get paid because you’re a father of four kids, you resisted. There’s no easy way to say thank you, but I hope that your children will one day know how brave and tough their father was in helping to save the party from the extreme hacking that was done. The party owes you a debt of gratitude.

Finally, to the cybersecurity task force led by Michael Sussmann at Perkins Coie, Nicole Wong, Aneesh Chopra, and Rand Beers, you all taught me more about cybersecurity, protocols, and much more. Special thanks to the brave men and women of Hacker House. You’re some of the badassess in the cyberworld. And I mean that in a good way. To Shawn Henry, and Dimitri at CrowdStrike. inquiries and other risks and obligations that can flow from network intrusions.

Michael advises phone companies, email and wireless providers, and social networks on privacy, security and all aspects of regulatory compliance. He has particular experience in surveillance issues relating to the Electronic Communications Privacy Act, the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act (FISA) and National Security Letters.

Michael's national security portfolio includes counseling on the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Act and other national security laws, government contracting, foreign-based investments in or threats to U.S. infrastructure, and handling of classified information.

Sussmann also appears to have provided information to Baker that was separate from hacks of the DNC's computer systems.

"In September 2016 [redacted] shared similar information in a one-on-one meeting with FBI General Counsel James Baker," reads a footnote in a report on Russian meddling released by the House Intelligence Committee's report on April 27.

The report does not identify Sussmann, but it refers to an interview conducted with the committee on Dec. 18, 2017, the same day as Sussmann's testimony.

The report goes on to say that at "around the same time as his meeting with FBI, [redacted] shared the information with journalists, including [redacted] of Slate, who published an article at the end of October."

The footnote then cites an article published on Oct. 31, 2016 by Slate's Franklin Foer. The piece claimed that the Trump Organization's computer servers were secretly communicating with those of Alfa Bank, a Russian bank.

Who runs CAP(Center For American Progress)Here comes Johnnnny

Center for American Progress (CAP)

The Center for American Progress (CAP) is a liberal Washington, D.C.-based think tank with strong ties to the Democratic Party establishment created in 2003 as the left-of-center alternative to the right-leaning Heritage Foundation. CAP was founded by John Podesta, former White House Chief of Staff for President Bill Clinton, Counselor to the President in the Obama White House, and chair of former U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Clinton's 2016 Presidential campaign.^[1] Podesta's goal, according to a New York Times article published when CAP was founded, was to "build an organization to rethink the very idea of liberalism, a reproduction in mirror image of the conservative think tanks that have dominated the country's political dialogue for a generation.” [2]

Judge Amy Berman Jackson<----focus on the name

A federal judge in Washington D.C. on Friday tossed out a lawsuit against Hillary Clinton that alleged negligence in her email security was the cause of two Americans' deaths in the 2012 attack on the U.S. diplomatic compound in Benghazi, Libya.

U.S. District Court Judge Amy Berman Jackson, appointed by former President Obama in 2010, concluded that Clinton used her email in the course of her official duties and dismissed the wrongful death portion of the suit on technical grounds, according to a report by Politico.

Roger stone case were he's asking about the DNC and DCCC hack(Servers) and proof that russia hacked the servers

Based on the information available, the DNC either failed to alert the FBI about a major security breach of its systems, or the FBI chose not to respond to said breach. Consequently, the DNC hired a private company – CrowdStrike. It is also unclear if the FBI ever conducted a forensic analysis on the DCCC servers. It is clear, however, that the government has relied on the assumptions made by a source outside of the U.S. intelligence community that the Russian State was involved in the hacking and that the data taken from the various servers were given to WikiLeaks. The government cannot prove either since it did not participate in the investigation at the earliest stage. The government does not have the evidence, and it knew it did not have the evidence, when it applied for these search warrants. Now the government confesses: “The Office cannot rule out that stolen documents were transferred to WikiLeaks through intermediaries who visited during the summer of 2016.” (Mueller Report at 47).

The Honorable Adam Schiff
Chairman
Permanent Select Committee on Intelligence
U.S. House of Representatives
Washington, D.C. 20515

Re: Correction to the transcript of Jennifer Williams's deposition testimony

Dear Chairman Schiff:

We write on behalf of Jennifer Williams under Rule 8 of the 116th Congress's Regulations for Use of Deposition Authority. Ms. Williams has reviewed the transcript of her deposition testimony from November 7, 2019, and wishes to amend it as described below.

At her deposition, Ms. Williams was asked whether the Ukrainian company Burisma was mentioned by name during the call between President Trump and President Zelensky on July 25, 2019. She testified that it was. Tr. at 66-67, 129. She was then asked who had mentioned it and whether she had taken notes. Ms. Williams testified that she had taken notes, and that she believed her notes reflected that President Trump had referenced Burisma. Id. At the time of her testimony, that was Ms. Williams's recollection.

Following the deposition, Ms. Williams reviewed her notes again and discovered that her recollection had been incorrect. Her notes reflect that President Zelensky mentioned Burisma during the July 25 call. They do not indicate that President Trump did so. Accordingly, Ms. Williams wishes to amend her response to the question discussed above so that it accurately reflects what she recorded during the call.

We thank the Committee for considering this letter.

Sincerely,

Justin V. Shur

Imran Awan, the former IT aide to congressional Democrats whose federal bank fraud case has drawn the interest of top Republicans, avoided jail time Tuesday after the defense complained about disparaging comments made against the defendant by President Trump and others.

During a hearing Tuesday in Washington, U.S. District Judge Tanya S. Chutkan sentenced Awan to three months of supervised release plus time served. Chutkan, who cited "unfounded allegations" against Awan, also did not impose a fine.

The firm, the Podesta Group, said nothing in a 2012 lobbying report to Congress about at least 32 meetings, emails and other communications it had with the State Department, at a time when Secretary of State Hillary Clinton was scrutinizing Ukraine's upcoming election, records show.

PAY FOR PLAY!

The new disclosures shed light on the web of contacts between Russian-leaning Ukrainians, Washington lobbyists and U.S. policymakers during the Obama administration. The Podesta Group filed new, detailed lobbying disclosures in April to augment lobbying reports from 2012 to 2014 that had given little detail.

The firm is run by Tony Podesta, whose brother, John, is a longtime adviser to Clinton and was chairman of her 2016 presidential campaign. John Podesta was a senior counselor to President Barack Obama in 2014 and had previously been lobbying partners with his brother. He is not currently affiliated with his brother's firm.

Haiti's sham election on Aug. 9, 2015 was Haiti's sham election on Aug. 9, 2010 was characterized by extremely low voter turnout, with just 18 percent of registered voters going to the polls. Additionally, 23 percent of all votes were never counted, due to fraud and violence on Election Day. By comparison, in the deeply flawed 2010 election, the number of uncounted tally sheets was 12 percent.

The Martelly government, his PHTK party, and the Provisional Electoral Council (CEP) nevertheless declared the electoral process to be broadly satisfactory and minimized the extent of irregularities. The West, led by the U.S., also blessed this outcome.
